He who teaches me for one day is my father for life. We must honour our teacher. Life is dear, truth is dearer. One has not lived in vain if he dies after he is told of the way. One should have the courage to change the things he can, and accept the things he cannot change. All things are one. Practise introspection for self-development. As the movement of the universe is ever vigorous, so must a gentleman ceaselessly strive along. We are grateful for Sai's teaching and advice. People from all parts of the world come to revere Lord Sai.
